Beautiful Cantata to be Rendered by Ogden's Famous Choir—Interpreted by Elder D. O. McKay.

OGDEN, Dec. 24.—Next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the tabernacle will be presented the beautiful Christmas cantata, "Star of Bethlehem," by the Ogden tabernacle choir, assisted by the following soloists: Mrs. Bessie Dean Allison, Miss Maud Dainap, Miss Bessie Blair, Mr. Walter L. Stephens, Mr. Caleb Marriott.

Elder David O. McKay will be the speaker and will present the Christmas cantata in the tabernacle in four parts, preceding the singing of the solos and choruses by the choir and soloists.

The presentation of this cantata will take the place of the regular Sunday afternoon service and the public is invited to attend.

Prof. Joseph Ballantyne informs "The News" that it is one of the most beautiful cantatas ever given by the choir. It requires about 40 minutes in presentation and contains many gems for solo, organ and chorus.

As the chief knew the amount only by hearsay, he was dismissed. Mrs. Curry was then called and her testimony was an absolute denial of any knowledge of fraud and so far as she was concerned, the entire affair in Ogden was perfectly square. Mr. Curry was then called and he also emphatically denied all testimony given by Van Ness and Miss Musser on Wednesday. The case was continued at 3:30 p. m. and after further testimony from the defendants, was continued.

WOMAN HOOKED BY FAMILY COW AT CENTERVILLE

(Special Correspondence.)
CENTERVILLE, Davis Co., Utah, Dec. 23.—A very serious accident occurred here this morning, when a Mrs. Jacobsen was very painfully hooked by the family cow.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobsen recently moved to this village and are living on the Kemp ranch, on the foot hills east of the town. Mr. Jacobsen had gone into Salt Lake City on business and Mrs. Jacobsen was in the barn yard attending to the cow which she had often done, as it was the family cow and long considered safe and perfectly gentle, when suddenly the animal attacked her with terrible violence, running her into a corner of the yard, hooking and wounding the lady very seriously. Finally the animal ceased her assault and Mrs. Jacobsen got out of the yard and managed somehow to get to a neighbor's house, and was sent to Mr. Jacobsen who hurried home, accompanied by a physician. An awful gash in the fleshy part of the leg was found with many other wounds in different parts of the body, and she is in a very precarious condition. Her husband recovered unless internally injured or complications ensue.

DIXIE LANDSCAPE ADORNED WITH MANTLE OF SNOW

(Special Correspondence.)
ST. GEORGE, Dec. 21.—The Dixie landscape is covered with a mantle of snow. It began falling last evening and has continued most of the time since. At noon today the snow was between five and six inches deep on the level. The unusual snowfall excited the people and snowflakes have been flying in all directions during the day, even older people participating in the sport. A few people have been out with sleighs, but the snow is too soft for enjoyable sleighing. The last week has been very cold here; the water has been frozen up in the St. George and Cottonwood canal to such an extent that it was impossible at times to operate the power plant which furnishes light for the citizens and the streets.

The city has recently arranged to take over the power plant from the parties who installed it.

A committee of the Commercial club has recently been at work canvassing this vicinity for subscriptions for an automobile road to give this city connection with the railroad at Acoma. It is reported that sufficient funds will be available for the purpose, and better transportation facilities may be looked for in the near future.

Work on the academy building is progressing slowly under the direction of Hon. Thomas P. Cottam, who has been placed in charge of the work. ### EFFORTS TO SAVE WYOMING FLOCKS FROM STARVATION

(Special Correspondence.)
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 21.—Letters were today sent from the headquarters of the Wyoming Wool Growers' association to the traffic managers of all the railroads operating in Wyoming calling attention to the unsatisfactory range conditions in Wyoming and asking that shipments of corn, alfalfa and hay en route to points in Wyoming be rushed through to destination on freight train, even if a higher freight rate is charged for the service.

The attention of the traffic managers was called to the fact that sheep and other kinds of livestock are now suffering for food, the ranges being completely covered with snow, and have been since Nov. 25, when a heavy fall of snow visited all parts of the state. This storm was followed by others in rapid succession, the livestock having no chance to get down to grass, and as the snow was piled high everywhere owners in some instances have been unable to haul hay to the ranches. Cheyenne, Okla. and no hay to haul, and rush orders were sent to Nebraska and surrounding states for hay and corn, and it is this feed that the Wyoming Wool Growers' association would have the railroads hurry to destination with all possible haste in order that, should the present severe weather continue, some of the flocks may be saved.

It is expected the railroads will cooperate in every way possible in the efforts of the flock owners to save their flocks, for the transportation companies derive large revenues from the sheep and wool business.

NICEST ROBBERS EVER DEALT WITH

Chicago, Dec. 24.—"The nicest robbers we ever had dealings with," was the verdict on thieves who moved a safe from the store of S. A. Scales last Saturday forenoon. Mr. Scales received the safe yesterday by express, charges prepaid.

"There were a few marks on the door," said Mr. Scales, "but otherwise the safe was all right. It was published in the papers that the safe contained keepsakes and papers of value to me, but worth nothing to any other person. So I think the thieves were polite enough to send my property back when they found they could get nothing for it."

STEEL CORPORATION TO SPEND HUNDRED MILLIONS

From sources other than President Buffington, it is stated that the Illinois Steel company is to erect a new blast furnace at South Chicago, and that the Iniquis Steel company has planned to erect at least one new blast furnace.
